

Culligan Quench Case Study | Forbes Five Star Resort

Premium Filtered Water for The Boca Raton

Enhancing Water Service Across the Resort's Distinguished Dining Venues

The Challenge:

- Seeking a sustainable and elegant solution to provide a premium guest water experience
- Meet sustainability goals to reduce single-use bottled water waste

The Solution:

- Installed multiple Vero Water systems in all major resort dining locations, including restaurants, bars, Beach Club, Harborside pool club, and MB Supper Club
- Reduced the usage of single-service branded water bottles and decreased water service times

“We aren't going to succeed in our Five Star goals if we give guests anything less than a Five Star experience. Vero Water offers the high quality and elegant presentation we expect.”

— Jonathan Feiler
Beverage Director at the Boca Raton

The Story:

As The Boca Raton approaches its 100-year anniversary, this iconic resort remains a pillar of luxury in the community. Having earned two prestigious Five-Star Awards from Forbes, The Boca Raton stands among the finest hotels in the world, a recognition given to properties that meet over 900 rigorous standards of service, luxury, and sustainability.

To improve water service flow, Vero Water systems were implemented across all restaurants and poolside bars. Vero's state-of-the-art filtration systems deliver perfectly chilled premium still and sparkling water without the need for ice. Presented in elegant silver champagne stands, water service is fast and smooth and adds to a refined atmosphere while eliminating the need for single-serve bottles.

Sustainability is a core value for the Boca Raton, celebrated by guests and staff alike. The resort's commitment to removing plastic straws and reducing single-use products, reflects their deep connection to the local community and surrounding wildlife. "We have sea turtle nests on our own beaches that we work to protect," shares Boca's beverage director. Vero Water plays a key role in elevating guest service while supporting the resort's ongoing sustainability goals.

"I love the challenge of ensuring perfect service from the moment a guest walks into the room. The purity of Vero sets the stage for the culinary experience to come."

— Chef Will Cox,
Executive Chef of Signature Restaurants
